MONDAY EVENING, FEBRUARY III

SUBSCRIPTION TO THE EVENING EDITION

VOL. 29......NO. 10.037 Entered at the Post-Office at New York as second-class

"THE CONQUEST OF THE AIR."

Having received special authorization from M. JULES VERNE and his publisher, THE EVENING WORLD begins to-day the publication of " The Conquest of the Air."

A few among our hundreds of thousands of readers may have had the good fortune to read this remarkable story in the original French, and a few others may have seen an unauthorized English version. But the story is essentially new to the great mass of the reading public.

THE EVENING WORLD's authorized version will be produced in its best style, and will be profusely illustrated by the best efforts of our inimitable artists. It will be a literary, scientific and imaginative feast rarely, if ever, given in a newspaper. We confidently expect that " The Conquest of the Air " will, as our Paris correspondent intimates, rank as one of Verne's unparalleled masterpieces.

WORLDLINGS.

Boscoe Barnes, the famous second baseman of the old-time Boston nine, is now a resident of Chicago. He is on the Board of Trade and makes a good living.

One of the wealthiest women in Cincinnati is Mrs. Bellamy Storer, who is worth $2,000,000. She was the widow of George Ward Nichols, first President of the Cincinnati College of Music. Spurgeon, the great London preacher, has a correspondence that averages 500 letters a day. He is obliged to employ three secretaries to answer the communications that come to him from all parts of the world.

As the result of an election wager, Charles Hindman, of Chicago, is now engaged in a weary tramp from that city to Washington, via New Orleans. He is now somewhere in the interior of Georgia. Mr. Hindman has worn out three pairs of shoes since he began his tramp,

OUR AUTOGRAPH COLLECTION.

man Enit A PRINCESS BORN IN TWELPTH STREET

Of the Reyal House of Hawaii and a Nov Yorker's Daughter. The Rev. Dr. Alexander treated the con gregation of the University Place Presby terian Church yesterday morning to a genuine surprise by christening the infant of a genuine Princess by birth and heritage. An olive-complexioned, black-eyed, chub by-faced girl of nine months nestled in its mother's arms, opened its big eyes and looked greatly surprised at the unique sur-

He is Fighting the City for Land on the East River Front.

A suit by the city against George Law, the wealthy and eccentric giver of diamonds, for the possession of land and water front on each side of East Tenth street is on the calendar for the General Term of the Supreme Court. The land was acquired by George Law I. many years ago, and the latter was dispossessed in 1885.

The appeal is now made by Mr. Law against a decision by Judge Van Vorst in favor of the ssistant Corporation Counsel Frank A.

Trish will appear for the Mayor, and Robinson, Scribner & Bright for Law and the Greenpoint Ferry Company, which is also interested in the case.

Free Lectures To-Night.

The ninth series in the course of free evening lectures in the public schools, secured to the working men and women of this city by THE EVENING WORLD bill, will be given this evening in seven of the public schools as follows:

At 216 East One Hundred and Tenth street. Prof. Zachos on "Novelists and Their Influence;" at 30 Allen street, Prof. Sloane on " How to Study Science at Home:" at 208 East Forty-second street, Edward H. Boyer on Ought Not to Be Slighted.

The cornetist ought never to be left out of the

Among the Workers

The Central Labor Union will appoint a com-mittee next Sunday to formulate charges against certain delegates who are accused of bribery in connection with the beer boycott. Gen. Roger A. Pryor will appear before the Judiciary Committee at Albany to-morrow and argue in behalf of the Central Labor Union's amendments to the Conspiracy laws.

The Brewery Employees' Protective Associa-tion (ale and porter brewerymen) has declared that David Stevenson is the only ale brewer in New York and Brooklyn who employs non-union

The Central Labor Union has sent to Cigar-Makers' International Union No. 144 a set of resolutions from the Building Trades Section condemning Delegate Shakespeare for characterizing the walking delegates as whiskey-drinkers, and saking for his withdrawal. A Committee of Division District No. 1 of N. D. A. 226 of Street Railway men has asked the Central Labor Union to boycott certain street railways because this rofficers refuse to employ union men. Action will be taken next Sunday if the companies continue to boycott union Scenes Taken from "Great Nature's Second Life."

The Quaint, the Fantastic, the Prophetic, the Remarkable.

Extraordinary Interest in the First Dream Tournament Ever Held.

Remarkable, if True. I drenmed that my landlady refused scept the amount due her for my board for two weeks, when I tendered it to her, and that she made me a present of the same. K. S. E. The Principle of Arbitration Approved. I have been instructed by our union to send you their hearty thanks for the article which appeared in THE EVENING WORLD of Tuesday, the 5th inst., headed Arbitration, and it was resolved that we urge on the members of the Legislature to adopt some such measures that will in future serve to prevent a reccurrence of the late railroad trouble. Thanking you for the interest shown by your journal in the welfare of the working class, C. H. Witzelock, Recording Secretary Sash, Blind and Doormakers! Union.

Experiencing a Stranger's Terror. I had a dream in which I found myself in vault when suddenly the door closed and spring lock fastened me in. I cannot tell how long the torments of my imprisonment lasted, but at last I was released by my hus band, who came to my resume. I related my dream in the morning, and it was not until several days later that I read in the papers of the experience of Philip Zeh, jr., who on the same night and at that very time was un-dergoing the terrible experience of being locked over night in a s-pulchre, sur-rounded by lifeless bodies, a spring lock hav-ing fastened him in the tomb. Mr. Zeh is a stranger to me, and my thoughts had not turned to graveyards until the dream came

Mas. D., 456 Franklin avenue, Brooklyn.

A Prediction of Peace.

A few weeks prior to the collapse of the Southern Rebellion I retired to my room for an after dinner siesta. I dreamed I was an after dinner siesta. I dreamed I was looking skyward, and the entire azure arch was occupied by a sharply defined map of the United States. The second States were a darker hue than the rest. Soon a fierce bombardment commenced, and balls of fire flew from every loyal State, centering unon the rebellious ones. In a few moments all was still. Soon a secended State assumed the same appearance of the others and successfully, one after another, returned until the map was complete and then disappeared as a dissolving view. Instantly in the place of the map came the American eagle and all the insignia of our glorious Union, shining or the map came the American eagle and all the insignia of our glorious Union, shining with all the refulgence of a thousand noonday suns. In the ecstasy of my feelings I awoke, the vision only being of ten minutes? duration. I told my family the war would soon close, which prediction was speedily verified.

E. Beeman, 980 Third avenue.

Found a Lost Brother. My father was a widower when he came to America, where he married my mother and settled on Staten Island. He left behind him in England a son, a boy four years of age, in looked greatly surprised at the unique surroundings.

The mother is Mrs. Graham, who is a niece of the late Queen Emma, of the Hawaiian Islands, and who was entertained royally by Queen and Empress Victoria. Young Mr. Graham, whose father is a member of the firm of Schuyler, Hartley & Graham, of Maiden lane, married the Hawaiian Princess. She is a beautiful woman, with big black eyes, black hair and rosy cheeks.

The babe which crowed in Dr. Alexander's arms as he sprinkled it with water yesterday morning is the second one born to Mr. Graham and his Princess wife. Their home is at 113 West Twelfith street, and is furnished sumptuously. It was here that the present Queen of the Hawaiian Islands was entertained about a year ago.

GEORGE LAW A LITIGANT.

when he went over for him, he counce in of the family. One night there years ago I visited a music hall in Liverpool in company with a number of friends, and who was entertained royally by Queen and Empress Victoria. Young Mr. Graham, who is a niece of the family. One night three years ago I visited a music hall in Liverpool in company with a number of friends, and who was entertained royally by Queen and Empress Victoria. Young Mr. Graham, whose father is a member of the family. One night three years ago I visited a music hall in Liverpool in company with a number of friends, and who was entertained royally by and white horse in a chair and dreamed I saw a man run over by a dray, drawn by a white horse in a chair and dreamed I saw a man run over by a dray, drawn by a white horse in the wounded man called me by name and said: "Sam, I are your brother. Don't you know me?" I awoke much impressed, and the next day looked in the papers to see if such an accident had occurred. I told my dressin to my mates, and one of them, an Irish man, had seen a similar accident a month before. He told me the place and I visited a music hall in Liverpool in company with a number of friends, and wounded man ealled me by name and said: "Sam, I are your brother. Don't you know me?" I a the care of his mother-in-law. Afterwards.

With a Moral to It. 1 was a poor sixteen-year-old boy when I got a job with a fresco painter in Copenhagen. Among the painters was an old bachelor who shortly afterward died in the hospital. He left a few thousand dollars behind him; but being without relatives and not leaving a will the Government kept the money. In the shop the old man had left a good blouse, and I, the old man had left a good blouse, and I, who had a very worn one, took possession of it. The following night I dreamed that the old fellow came for his blouse, and I had a very hard fight with him. When he was trying to pull the blouse over my head a tall young man female entered the room and said to the old man: "Are you not warm enough now? Let the boy keep the blouse. He needs it more than you," and turning to me she said: "Young man, you can keep the blouse, but the boy keep and turning to me she said; than you," and turning to me she said; 'Young man, you can keep the blonse, but do not forget that you must always in the future listen to the voice of your conscience and always give the conscience the benefit of your doubt."

This dream made a great impression on my mind, and has guided me many a time afterwards.

S. W. Wiegell,

1605 Lexington avenue.

The Beetle Bookkeeper. I dreamed that I beheld an insect of the "Electricity: Its Theory, Sparks and Shocks; at Seventieth street and First avenue, Prof. Leipzigor on "Local and State Governments and the Conduct of Electricins;" at 523 West Forty-fourth street, Dr. Allen on "Illuminating Gass," at 225 West Forty-first street, "Prof. Mott on "The Chemistry of What We Eat and Drink," and at 108 Broome street, Prof. F. G. Caldwell on "The Solar System."

No tickets of admission for the lectures are nearer, to observe its motions. It moved up and down long columns of figures with the genus beetle going through a series of fauwith a fearful lustre, It was about ten inches in length, and of a duli brown color. In one of its feet was elasped a pen. I drew nearer, to observe its motions. It moved up and down long columns of figures with the rapidity of lightning, and at the bottom it write with absolute meaning the stip total. rapidity of lightning, and at the bottom it wrote with absolute accuracy the sum total. The most remarkable part of it was that it discovered an error that I had vainly sought all the afternoon. Finally, it seized paper and envelope and wrote a note, calling my attention to the fact that the discrepancy that had worried me was now made plain. This strange tissed then unfolded its wings and disappeared from my view. When I reached the country-rape. unfolded its wings and disappeared from my view. When I reached the counting-room next morning, I, of course, discovered nothing unusual in the appearance of my backs and failed to find the beetle's note, but I did find my error of the day before precisely as the little insect had described it.

R. WELSH MACK, Trenton, N. J.

He Played Poker and Won. The following dream took place a week ago: Retiring from a 25-cent limit game of poker I felt rather ploomy, as in about a quarter of an hour I was minus #5. So I rered to bed, and, after much thinking ever the day's troubles, my mind was made up to go to France. I arrived there in the short go to France. I arrived there in the short time of ten minutes, and came across some persons to whom I wished to blow about my fast travel, when, imagine my surprise, upon recognizing the possessors of my last night's loss, and upon their request to enter a social game I jumped heartily in.
My luck this time was great. The chips

THE DREAMERS came in flying from all sides. They then settled up by giving me their checks, after which my day's adventure was ended by dreaming upon my fortune. Bo great was my excitement that I awoke at midnight to see whether it was really no dream. I sprang for my vest—yes—there they were, four paper checks, and being now satisfied dozed off Influential People Interesting Themwhen I awoke my heart bounded with joy at the recollection of last night. Opening my oyes slowly to gather in again the true situation, my joy gradually decreased into sadselves in Her Case. tion, my joy gradually decreased into ness when I found myself back in New and so cruelly deceived.

Beyond Doubt.

Subscription Books Being Distributed All Over the City.

black hair and heavy black mustache, fash ionably dressed, on the corner of Centre and Baltimore streets, in this city. Some quarrel arose, and I shot him in the neck. Some of his blood spurted on my white vest. The The Necessity of "The Evening World's next morning about 10 o'clock, as I was turning the corner above mentioned, I met the dream man. He sprang back with a cry, covered his neck with his hand and said. "For God's sake, don't said "For God's sake, said said "For God's sake, said time!" We were both too much shocked time!" We were both too much shocked to speak for some moments. Explanations followed. We had both dreamed the same thing. Oddly enough, in looking at my vest afterwards I found a smear of something red on it about the size of a quarter. This had been concealed by my coat and had not been noticed in the hurry of dressing. A chemist afterwards removed the stain and said it was human blood. J. E. J. Buckey, Cumberland, Md.

THE SUNNY SIDE OF LIFE.

DREAMED HE SHOT A MAN.

And, Oddly Enough, Ilia Victim Had a

I dreamed one night last Summer that I met a man of small stature, dark complexion the cemetery, and in some way had entered a PLEASANT NOOKS WHERE SHINE THI GENIAL PARAGRAPHIC RAYS.

An Optical Illusion.

with his wife)-Wal, I declare, Maria! Ef thar don't go a young man stone blind in the off eye: He kin unly wear harf a pair o' specs.

Etiquette. [From Pack.] Always remove your hat when saluting a lady, igy. Even the boughs of the trees are made are at this season.

A Hopeful Outlook. [From the Burlington Free Press.]
Blobson—How is Dumpsey this morning? Popinjay-I understand the doctor has given im up. Blobson—Then there is some chance for him.

The Pleating Vote. (From the Pittsbury Chronicle.)
"The floating vote "is probably so called be cause it materially assists in sending a candidate up Salt River.

> Give Us Chenper Sugar. [From Texus Stillings. ]

A Missouri editor who was fined $16 for kiss ng a widow against her will, printed an antiingar Trust editorial in his next issue, headed. Give us cheaper sugar."

> No Change There. [From the Philadelphia Frene.]

English brewers are gradually absorbing the over business in this country. The beer itself, sowever, will continue to be absorbed largely by American citizens.

Does Not Apply to Them.

[From the Terre Haute Express,]
Walking sticks are now constructed to hold a half pint of whiskey. This does not refer to the stage article, which holds from a pint to a gallon of beer, according to the activity of the growier.

[Prom the Chicago Tribune.]

Miss Canada (blushingly)-If I were sure that you intend nothing but what is fair and honor ble I don't know but-but I-I might-Uncle Sam (thoughtfully reaching over and brushing an icicle from the end of her nose)— Take plenty of time, miss, to decide. I'm going to invite you next Spring to come down and take a good look at my farm.

In the French Quarter.

hat hasn't garlie in it? Enn'le—Out, Monsieur. Ze sugar-r-r!

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Is carefully prepared from Sarsaparilla, Dandel Mandrake, Dock, Pipsissews, Juniper Berries and other well known and valuable vegetable remedies, by a pocultar combination, proportion and process, giving to Hood's Sarsaparilla curative power not possessed by

Hood's Sarsaparilla Is the best blood purifier. It cures Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Boils, Pimpies, all Humors, Dyspepsia, Billious-

ness, Sick Headsche, Indigestion, General Debility Catarrh. Rheumatism, Kidney and Liver complaints, overcomes that tired feeling, creates an appetite, strongthous the nerves, and builds up the whole system. Hood's Sarsaparilla Iss mot peculiar and unparalleled success as home that whole neighborhoods are taking it at the same time, and Lowell druggists sell more of Hood's Sarsaparilla than of all other sarsaparillas or blood purifiers. It is sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Propared of by C. I. HOOD & CO., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass.

100 DOSES ONE DOLLAR

The Father's Good Character Proven

THE OUTRAGE MUST BE REMEDIED.

Amendment Plainly Apparent.

THE PROPOSED AMENDMENT. (Drawn by a well-known Supreme Court Judge.)
7. All proceedings under this section (Sec. 201, Cha. 676, Laws of 1881, and Chap. 46, Laws of 1884), who review by any court of record, upon certiorari on the facts and the law, and in such a proceeding the commit ment order or judgment may be affirmed or reversed or modified in such manner and to such extent as may seem best, or a rehearing of the charge ordered.

As the result of untiring efforts of the friends of the unfortunate Weiss family more than one bundred and fifty subscription books are now in the hands of charitable ladies, and the work of raising money to bring back little Tina Weiss to her parents is going on rapidly.

ZA meeting of the Lady Foresters' Society was held yesterday at the house of Mrs. Kopelowich, 202 East Broadway, and a large number of subscription books were distributed, and the ladies are entering enthusiastically into the work.

Mrs. Kopelowich is doing a great deal to arouse interest in the case, and has secured the co-operation of President Hutkopf, of the Eldridge Street Synagogue Association, which is one of the most influential congregations on the east side.

He is going to engage eminent counsel to look after the legal interests of the Weiss actors!

family.

Rabbi Josephs speaks of the outrage which has been committed by Mr. Gerry's society in this instance in the strongest terms, and he is so indignant over the matter that he

in this instance in the strongest terms, and he is so indignant over the matter that he had written an appeal to the pasters of all the synagogues in the city, urging them to take an active interest in the case, and by their assistance lend influence to the movement which has been started to recover the child and restore her to her parents.

He says that if money will accomplish this object there will be an unlimited amount at the disposal of those who have undertaken the work, and he thinks it the duty of every liberty-loving American to help forward the movement for the repeal of the present law, which can work so much injustice.

The Society to which Mr. Weiss belongs has just issued under its seal a recommendation of his character, the duplicate of the one which was given him some time ago to give to Mr. Gerry's Society, and which the latter refused to return to him. It is as follows:

We, the Dinaburger Brothers' Benevolent Association, a corporation duly organized and existing under the laws of the State of New York, hereby recommend Mr. Bernard Weiss as an honcet, upright and sober man. Mr. Bernard Weiss is a member of our Association and has not been in arrears since he first became such member, and is, in our opinion, able to support his family. We can state that he has been a sober and industrious man for the last fifteen years.

In witness whereof, we, the President and

In witness whereof, we, the President and secretary of the Dinaburger Brothers Benevo-ent Association, by resolution duly passed Feb. , 1889, have hercunto set our hands and af-ixed the seal of this Association, the day and ear above written.

[Beal.] Samuel Trotsky, President. Penerz Gordon, Secretary.

PERETZ GORDON, Secretary,
As a result of the publicity given to the case by the efforts of The Evening World several gentlemen and ladies have called upon the Weiss family at their home, 102 Broome street, to satisfy themselves as to the est indignation at the outrage which had been committed.

The gentleman, who declined to give his name or that of the ladies, remarking that he was acquainted with Mr. Gerry, said that he would call upon that gentleman at the ear-liest opportunity and lay the facts before him, and if he could not succeed in having justice done by that appeal he would employ a lawyer to bring the case before the courts.

A paper is now being circulated in the neighborhood where the Weisses live, which is being signed by all those who are acquainted with Mr. Weiss and certifying to his good character and his thorough ability to provide for his family. o provide for his family.

The Child Should Be Returned.

to the Eduar of The Evening World: This case of little Tina Weiss is even worse than that of Josie Shephard. I feel sorry for her parents and hope THE EVENING World will never let up on this case till the

the case of poor little Tina Weiss, Your paper is the only one of the many published which takes any interest in the poor. I wish you every success. J. DARRAGH. Would Not Be Telerated in Russin. In the Editor of The Evening World:

I read in The Evenino World the sad and lamentable account of poor little Tina Weiss's fate, and I must confess, as a "free born American citizen," that I have never read, either in romance or fact anything to exceed the cruel, heartless and inhuman treatment of this child and her parents. Such conduct would not be tolerated in barbarian The public may depend upon the fact that there are a great many more cases similar to Tina Weiss's within the walls of these institutions which ought to be investigated. The conduct of some of these agents is nothing more nor less apparently than atrocious, EDWARD GORDON.

837 Fast Forty-third street. He Knows of Another Case.

To the Editor of the Evening World:

I have read the article "An Outrage" in your esteemed paper of to-night's issue with great interest, and am delighted to see that THE EVENING WORLD has taken steps to improve the law with regard to such cases as related in the article mentioned. It is really a shame that there should exist such a state of things, and it is high time to put a stop to it. I know of a case almost similar to the one in question where two sisters are involved, and there is no way for their father to get them back. MAX ALTMAN, 870 East Houston street.

TO FAUNTLEROY'S MAMMAS.

ALAN DALE WRITES THEM AN IMPARTIAL OPEN LETTER.

The Glamour of the Stage Already Haloing the Heads of Little Elsie and Tommy-Some Extremely Wise Advice and a Fev Interesting Facts About Child Wonders (C.

My DEAR MRS. LYDE AND MRS. RUSSELL: In order that no one may ever accuse me of giving the green-eved monster the very smallest opportunity to haunt you on my account. I intend to address you both, trusting that this charming impartiality will meet with the approbation that it most undoubtedly merits.

pleasant influence upon the community, your maternal instincts are perhaps more dangerously likely to succumb to the insinuating advances of what is in its early days known as legitimate pride, and in its later developments as illegitimate rivalry, than you yourselves may even suspect. As a consequence I feel that a few words may not be considered wholly impertment, coming as they do from an ardent admirer of both little Elsie and little Tommy. Remember that I say both, and am only writing on the strict understanding that I consider Elsie as effective as Tommy, and Tommy as precocious as Elsie.

A great deal of nonsense has been written about the genius of your children, fond mothers, that might better have been left unwritten. Just imagine children being endowed with the power to impersonate other children, when the knowledge of their own little entities can hardly be said to have begun. The absurd statements that little Elsie has genius and that little Tommy is a "born actor" ought to be at once effaced from the tablets of your minds. It is a mischievous fallacy, as every sensible "stage mother"

As a matter of fact, your children—remember that I mean both—have a special aptitude for mimetic training, and their performance in Mrs. Frances Hodgson Burnett's little play is the result of this special aptitude extensively and perhaps unduly worked upon. How delightful it would be if we need only believe that our children might be born actors! any amount of good. RIVALIN THE SLEEPING RACE THE ATTICA WOMAN STILL LEADS, BUT soothing syrup could but be made to think that the teething cherub might merely be re hearsing a little situation to be subsequently inte present une, when two of the sweetest little children are having their golden heads "turned" by a foolishly adulatory public, who have been treated to absurd stories about impossible dramatic feats. No stage manager could afford to rely upon children can give such delightful accentua-tion to difficult speeches. There is no need to wonder. Admit you know that, Mrs. Lyde and Mrs. Russell. Confess that you believe that the more difficult the speech, and the less intelligible it is to the child, the better PRETZ GORDON, Secretary,

As a result of the publicity given to the case by the efforts of The Evening World several gentlemen and ladies have called upon the Weiss family at their home, 192 Broome street, to satisfy themselves as to the exact state of the case.

A gentleman and two ladies called together exect state of the case.

A gentleman and two ladies called together will be used that little Elsie and little Tommy would be that little Elsie and little Tommy would be used to the case.

A tone time I confess that I was inclined to laugh at the fears entertained by many people that little Elsie and little Tommy would be used to the case.

A few minutes to assert that if your children—both of them, please—had understood the full meaning of all they were obliged to say, the stage manager's task would have been infinitely more difficult.

At one time I confess that I was inclined to laugh at the fears entertained by many people that little Elsie and little Tommy would be used to them.

> nett's play. As time went on I merely smiled. Now I couldn't get up a smile to save my life. The subject is too engrossingly serious. The glamour of the stage that most destrucport tells truly—delight in it.
> In addition to this devastating glamour-how many homes has it devastated, I wonder?

the spirit of resemblent has been engendered in the breasts of the children. "I only play at the matince," savs little Tommie. "I suppose they will allow me to do that." You, Mrs. Russell, may not feel any overwhelming affection for Mrs. Lyde, but would it not ng affection for and, Lydy might have upon be as well, in the effect it might have upon the same of your children, if you dilichild is returned to its mother.

AN OLD READER.

Birmingham, Conn., Feb. 8.

"Peer Little Tina Weiss."

To the Editor of The Frening World:

It affords me great pleasure to read of the interest your valuable paper has taken in the case of poer little Tina Weiss, Your selves. The fickle public will laugh at the chedenty in the case of public will laugh at the chedenty in the case of public will laugh at the chedenty in the case of public will laugh at the chedenty in the case of public will laugh at the chedenty in the case of public will laugh at the chedenty is not in the effect it might have upon the mornlity of your children, if you dilities and the mornlity of your children, if you

"at the bottom of the class" with dignity, and too stupid to be allowed a place at the top. What is the result? The country is flooded with a tribe of uncalutated "ingenues" and illiterate "juvenites."

I heard some misguided people pitying little Bayou Fernandez, because, owing to her centract with Mr. Augustin Daly, she was unable to play "Fauntlerov." Is if possible that such idiots can be allowed to utter their inanities with impunity? Mr. Daly has taken charge of little Bajou and has placed her at a fashionallie school. He is, it is said, diligently surrounding her with every refining inthuence and preparing her to hold an enviable costion upon the stage. She is an exquisitely ingenuous little child, with the face of a thoroughbred. She went to the Broadway recently to see your children—one of them, not both this time—play "Fauntle-roy." I heard a manager ask her how she would like to do the part. "Pd like it, if it were played at Daly's," she said: "but I would not like to leave him." Mr. Daly ought to have heard her. I imagine that even would like to do the part. I'd like it, if it were played at Daiy's," she said; "but I would not like to leave him." Mr. Daly ought to have heard her. I imagine that even e would have smiled. Blou Fernandez nust have been born under a lucky star. She berant mothers? They have no interest in the stage by the time they are adolescent, and continue their dramatic work because there is nothing else for them to do. There are exceptions, of course, notably in the cases of Miss Minnie Maddern and Lotta. But look

Washington INAUGURAL CENTENNIAL. Windows along the Route, Transient Board or Lodgings, Chaperons

and Guides will be in Great Demand. MAKE YOUR DESIRE TO MEET ANY OF THE ABOVE REQUIREMENTS KNOWN THROUGH THE WORLD " WANT " COLUMNS. Advertisers can Register at the INFORMATION BUREAU of "THE WORLD'S" Uptown Of-fice, 1267 Broadway. As the mothers of the dainty little Lord To Strangers CONTEMPLATING VISITING THE ME.
TROPOLIS DURING THE WASHING.
TON INAUGURAL ARE EXTENDED

THE FACILITIES OF THE WORLD'S INFORMATION BUREAU AS ABOVE

SHE MAY BE OVERTAKEN.

The Daughter of the Wickedest Man is Steelton on Her Eleventh Day of Slumber-Her Father Became Intensely Good and Got His Daughter to Join a Relig-lous Sect-Fervor Causes Her Trance.

ISPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD, I HARRISBURG, Feb. 11.-There bids fair t

be a formidable rival of Mrs. Emma Alt-house, the Attica sleeper, in the person of

She has been in a trance now for eleven days, opening her eyes only at long intervals and immediately falling again into a state of Miss Bodmer's condition was brought on by religious frenzy. At first nothing was thought of it, as such cases were of frequent extent of the tranquility enjoyed by her co being the wickedest man in Steelton. To the posed of a sect of the Dunkard order, and became as intensely good as he was before

Then he exhorted his two daughters to fixed and her form as rigid as though in death

As this condition is a common one among 'mourners' when they receive the blessing

n the Church of God, nothing was though since his conversion, in her conscious moments she refers to chapters in the Bible nd will repeat many passages nearly liter ally.

She answers rationally all questions put to her, but frequently while talking the singular rigor overcomes her, and she sinks back into the trance. On Thursday she came out of a trance and said: "Auntie will be here at 3 physical laws.

church nightly seeking religion

The paster spends most of his time at the side of the Bodmer girl. He himself seems overwhelmed with what he calls an "awful demonstration of the divine spirit."

A Whiskey Bottle in a Dead Hand, yard this morning the dead body of an unknown man. An empty whiskey bottle was clasped in one hand. The man was apparently thirty years old, was 5 feet 7 inches in height and had brown hair and a sandy mustache.

For the Parnell Defense.

The Irish Parliamentary Fund Association

Minnie Hoffman, janitress of the lodgingsouse at 20 Delancey street, found in the back

Her aunt lives in York. No one expected known as "Wicked John."

worshippers.

Lillie Bodmer, of Steelton, near here.

ALAN DALE.

Fauntleroys who are at present exerting a at that child actress who at one time was con-sidered a marvel -I mean Bijou Heron. She is as charming a little lady as ever lived, but she has not realized the promise of her early days. Look at Cordeia Howard, the original little Eva. When she grew up she could hardly speak a line upon the stage with proper effect. She is now married, secluded proper effect. She is now married, secluded and unstaged.

So. Mrs. Kussell and Mrs. Lyde, if you cannot repress your own enthusiasm, see that it does not extend to your children. Take Tommy's diamond ring from him. Mrs. Russell, and spank him if he ever asks for another, and you, Mrs. Lyde, try and impress upon little Else—even if you do not believe it yourself—the fact that she is by no means the only charming little girl in New York City. Let us feel that our little Lord Fauntleroys are as delightful off as on the stage. It will heighten the illusion and do any amount of good.

ALAN DALE. knows full well.

If only the weary mother in the agony of hearsing a little situation to be subsequently produced at a popular theatre, she might go to her couch undismayed. If a child were a born actor, would not this be possible, and would it not be lovely? I hear a babel of material voices answer: "Yes, divine."

You know as well as I do, Mrs. Lyde and Mrs. Russell, that the little artistic points which we have all appreciated in the performances of your children-remember, I mean both—have all been carefully drilled into their juvenile minds by a judicious stage manager. It may spoil the illusion to know that little Elsie's artlessness is no more spontaneous than little Tommy's boyish enthusiasm: that they are both studied. But I say, let us spoil the illusion and get at the truth. Never was the truth more necessary than at the present time, when two of the sweetest little children are having their golden heads

No stage manager could afford to rely upon a child's spontanerty. While it might render a certain passage in a particularly fascinating manner one night, the following night a very different result might be observed. That is where the work of the stage manager comes in, and that is where your olive branches' spontaneity goes out.

People wonder how it is that such young children can give such delichtful accentus.

be utterly spoiled by their work in Mrs. Furin the Church of God, nothing was thought of it. She remained in the trance so long, however, that she was carried to John Parthemore's house, not far from the church, where she has lain ever since. She has returned to consciousness at intervale, but is unable to stand or see. She insists that she is in heaven and that all about her are augels, the has taken no nourishment in all that The glamour of the stage, that most destructive ignis rations, has already haloed the heads of your dear little children. (This isn't pations.) Little Tommy gets a diamond ring, and wants it over the footlights (a diamond ring—ve gods and little fishes!) Little Elsie is delighted with flowers. These children have merely learned a lesson, and learned it admirably. They are rewarded by this cruelest of kindness, and you. Mrs. Lyde and Mrs. Russell, not only permit it but—if report iells truly—delight in it. She has taken no nourishment in all that She has taken no nourishment in all that time except the juice of two or three oranges and a dish of ice cream. Her cheeks remain full and are high in color.

The most curious part of the phenomenon is that the girl, who is hardly able to read, and who, her father declares, has never, to his knowledge, seen the inside of a Bible, because he never had one in the house until the his coversion in her constituted.

the spirit of resentment has been engendered in the breasts of the children. "I only play chestnutism of "Little Lord Fauntiercy" as it now smiles at "Pimafore" and smirks at "Hazel Kirke." For once the fickleness of the public will make itself usefully felt. I confess that while the exquisite work of your children has charmed me the results with which it has already been attended have sickened me.

1 am sorry for stage children. They have ny heartiest sympathy. They are kept at school just long enough to learn nothing; they make a hit in a part, and remain at it until they are too old to begin their studies "at the bottom of the class" with dignity, and has a future.

And what becomes of the average stage children? Do you know, most fondly exu-

MAGNIFICENT

LONDON AND LIVERPOOL CLOTHING COMPANY'S BIG STORE.

Preparations for the Grand Opening on Feb. 14-Greatest Display of Fine Clothing Ever Seen in New York-Entirely New Stock.

The great establishment of the London and Liverpoo

Clothing Company at the corner of the Bowers and Hester st. reopens on Thursday, Feb. 14. The mammoth store has been closed since Christmas for alterations which amount really to an entire transformation of the building. On the day of the opening will be spread be-fore the gaze of the thousands of people who will fleck

EMPORIUM.

for the gaze of the thousands or people who will need to the store a magnificent and palatial emporium, a mammoth stock, including some of the most beautiful clothing in the world—a might, altogether, which will be the talk of New York for many a day. The first thing people will see will be the grand show windows of the store on both the Bowery and Hester st. Think of a shining, brilliant area of solid French plate-glass on the one side of the store fifty feet, on the other side thirty five feet long, and on both sides fifteen feet high! Yet this is only to be the front of the windows. These darzling show windows reach back twenty-five feet to th store proper, and are small stores in themselves. They will be filled with samples of everything in the magnifi-cent stock of the store—men's and boys' and children's clothing of all conceivable sizes and shapes and styles and for all ages, alike only in a uniform excellence, beauty and durability; hats and caps and gloves, collars and cuffs, beautiful neckwear, soft, silken scarfe fine linen, pretty stockings—all that man needs to clothe and adorn his body. Skilled designers and window dressers are already at work arranging th display here in the most artistic manner, dressers will do well to study these windows if they really want to see what a beautifully dressed window is. The interior of the windows will be fretted and curved with rows of hundreds of electric and incands-cent lights. Outside the windows, too, will be a large number of electric lights in silver frames. When the are turned on at the first approach of the night of Feb 14, they will make one of the most magnificent spects-cles that the city has ever seen. The London and Liverpool Clothing Company only asks an inspection of thes windows, and of the samples of their stock there dis-played, to convince any one that they have the finest he most beautiful, the most durable; in every way the best stock of clothing in the city, and this cont

the most luxurious and palatial store.

This grand store is in one of the most accessible parts of the city, and people who want to see the opening can easily get there. The elevated road and numberies street-car lines pass directly in front of the store, and on the day of the opening there is sure to be a big trave on the day or the opening there is sure to be a big travel over them. Meanwhile, outside and inside the store, preparations of uncounted kinds are going on with marvellous rapidity for the great opening day. Big draps are blocking the Bewery and Hester street, emptying into the cellar of the store and on the sidewalk before it immense cases filled with the new goods which the London and Liverpool Clothing Company has ordered The stock in the store will be entirely and absolutely new, not a dollar's worth of old goods being put en sale The mills whose entire output is controlled by the com pany have been working night and day during the pas few months to supply the large and varied stock which the London and Liverpool Clothing Company demands for its grand opening. In the cellar of the store nor the great cases of goods are being opened and unpacked by scores of men. The noise of hammers and ripping boards made by these men in the cellar is about as grea as that made by the carpenters who are repairing the store above. The window-dressers are selecting that samples. The elevators are groaning under the weigh of goods going upstairs. Clerks and carpenters, artist and messengers are flitting about, and all is bustle and an apparent confusion that is in the highest and truss sense a busy prosperity.

FOUND ONLY TO LOSE HIM AGAIN. Mrs. Boucher's Husband Elopes for the Second Time with Miss De Lude. occurrence among the peculiar sects to which SEPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD. she belonged. A few hours, though, was the Lowell, Mass., Feb. 11.-Louis Boucher eloped with Miss De Lude from Rochester, N. Y., about the first of January. They This young lady was the daughter of a very came to this city and took quarters in the wicked father. He bore the reputation of Fletcher block as husband and wife,

A few days ago Mrs. Boucher No.1 appeared good people of the puritante spirit he was in this city, accompanied by her three children, and compelled the husband and This most wicked man was converted, and father to take them to his home. to a church of the most pronounced ortho-Miss De Lude, however, was permitted to doxy. He joined the Church of God com-remain with the family. A few days ago Miss De Lude packed up her things and went The following morning Boucher left the house with his eldest child, a girl of five years, and has not been seen since.

Mrs. Boucher atterwards found out that Miss De Luce took all of Boucher's clothes in her trunk join, and after a supreme effort got them within the fold. A week ago Friday night both "received the blessing."

A few minutes thereafter Lillie, the younger one, fell into a trance. Her eyes became her trunk.

Boucher is a Frenchman, about twenty-nine years of age, and Miss De Lude is a pretty, stylish girl, about twenty-four year Their whereabouts are still unknown.

BIG POST-OFFICE ROBBERY.

The Safe Blown Open and Seven Thousand Dollars Stolen at Amity, Ark. [SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.] LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Feb. 11.-Word ba just been received here of the robbery of the Post-Office at Amity, Ark., Saturday night. W. C. Hayes, is the postmaster, and he runs a large supply store. When closing the week's business he had $7,000 belonging to himself and the Government. The safe in which the money was kept we blown open and the funds stolen. The work in entering the building and in blowing open skilled experts, though parties in the neigh porhood are suspected.

Post-office inspectors and officers left this the largest of the la ROUGH ON BARCLAY.

The Sunday Directors Say He Must Comfess or Get Out-He Is Innocent, He Says.

Her aunt lives in York. No one expected her in Steeton that afternoon, but on the arrival of the train at the hour mentioned by fallie she appeared at the Parthemore lionse. Soon afterwards the girl mentioned the name of a neighbor, and said that she was fetching her some ice cream.

A few minutes later the neighbor entered the house, and had with her a plate of ice gream. ISPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD, I Lowell, Mass., Feb. 11-Oscar R. Barclay. cresm.

Lillie has frequently come out of a trance who was recently dismissed from the Branch Lillie has frequently come out of a trance, and said that such and such persons were ill in Steelton, Harrisburg and other places, and inquiry elicited that such was the fact, although the girl could have had no physical knowledge of it.

Several Harrisburg and other physicians have visited the girl and studied the case, but are unable to explain the phenomenon by physical laws. Street Baptist Church, and in regard to whose presence in the Sunday-school objection was made by the superintendent last Sunday, was present in the school yesterday with twenty pupils.

After school the directors held a meeting, and it was decided to bermit Barclay to meet with his class in the school if he desired to, but there was to be no fellowship with him till he confessed to the charges of immorality physical laws.

She complains of no suffering, but her words and the expression of her face denote the greatest peace and happ ness.

Hundreds of people from the village and surrounding country have flocked to rathemore's house to see the girl, and the prefound impression it has made is manifested by the throngs that besiege Pastor Keefer's charter nightly.

He still proclaims his innocence.

Prevention of Crucity to Mothers This Time An agent of the Society for the Prevention of Crucity to Children arrested David Sachs, aged fourteen, of 140 East Broadway, this morning. The boy had been away from his home sind Thanksgiving Day. Last night he returned and quarrelled with his mother, striking her in the face and otherwise maltreating her. At the sex Market Polico Court he was held for a Carpet Upholsterers Incorporated.

The Carpet Upholsterers' Association filed articles of incorporation to-day. The officers are

James McCoon, President; James Deegan, Vice-President; Francis O'Hara, Treasurer; John & Allen and Daniel B. Shechan, Secretaries George West, Sergeant-at-Arms.

A Bridge at Midnight. James Bridge, of 163 Avenue D. was founded rhich, under the energetic leadership of Mr. Eldridge street at midnight shouting at the top Eugene Kelly, raised in a few months nearly $275,000, is again in the field raising money for the Parnell Defense Fund. There will be a meet-ing at the Hofman House this evening, where the Committee will cordially welcome all friends and supporters of the cause. of his lungs, in mortal terror on account of some imaginary pursuers. At Essex Market to-day he was turned over to the Commissioners of Char-ities and Correction for examination as to his sanity.